

“The Church of St. Michael & St. George feels like home—we’ve been raised here, and are active in the youth group. We’ve made many great friends and enjoy the Christian fellowship on the High School Mission trips. Serving as an acolyte is our way of ‘giving back.’”
—Riley and Ian Thomsen

“Having worked for the YMCA in St. Louis for over 27 years, I have learned the true meaning of the word ‘mission.’ My twenty years at CSMSG have allowed me to observe both a purpose and a mission at play within the Church. I see the commitment to the Episcopal City Mission, St. Michael’s Houses and, of course, the Hunger Ministry. Our commitment to these services is very meaningful for all involved.”
—Vivienne Palmer-Young

“CSMSG has symbolized stability, tradition and comfort for us. We are both a part of CSMSG because it offers what so many other churches don’t. We have acted as greeters, committee members, Sunday school teachers, and volunteers for the Vestry. These opportunities have given us so many friends and acquaintances we enjoy. We give of our time because we are called upon to do so. Helping and giving are basic tenets of Christian faith. We are blessed in many ways.”
—Becky and Mike Zaccarello

“CSMSG has been my church home for 70 years. I’ve belonged to other churches, but none are like St. Michael’s, where my husband and I have made many good friends. We pledge because we believe in St. Michael’s and the work that it does.”
—Anne and Bill Kindorf

“I joined CSMSG after moving to St. Louis over twenty years ago. The parishioners and staff have made the church a place of comfort and renewal for me during some hard times in my life. Today, I consider it both a duty and a delight to give what I can in both money and time to help insure that same comfort and renewal are available to others. I have always seen stewardship as a form of worship. As Deuteronomy 15:11 says, ‘For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore...You shall open your hand wide to your brother, to your poor, and to your needy, in your land.’ I can rejoice in God through cheerful giving to others.”
