

Large Group Gatherings for Encouragement and Training

A few times a year, we'll have some large events where we seek to bring parents together for some great content and table discussions. We'll hear from some parenting experts and learn the latest ideas and info on parenting and have some time to talk and debrief with other parents in our same phase of life.

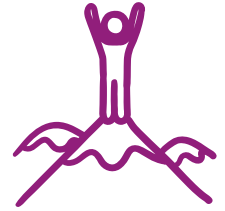

Parent-Child Events

Research has shown that one of the things that helps kids develop a deep, strong faith is intergenerational events at church WITH their parents. Over the course of a year we'll have several events where kids and parents can simply have fun and create a memory together. (possibly Phase 2)

Celebration of Milestone Moments

As kids grow up they go through lots of big events, Rites of Passage, or "milestone moments" in their life. As parents, we have the opportunity to help them with these moments and transition into their next phase. The Parent Ministry provides resources and events to help your kids celebrate these rites of passage.

Resources

Ever tried to search online for "Christian parenting" resources? Good luck with that! As we all know, there are so many things out there, and not all of them are good. We have a team of people combing the web and we'll be posting and printing resources that we think can really help you guide your children in your family's spiritual formation.

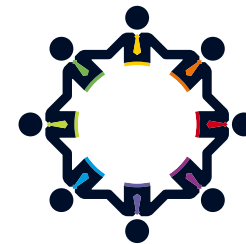

Family Ministry Communication

We've heard that parents want better, more streamlined communication about what is going on for their kids and families at CSMSG. We are working on improving our communication systems so you can have the information you want when you need it.

Smaller "Parent Circles" for Fellowship

From time to time, we'll organize opportunities for parents to get together, fellowship, and encourage one another in this crazy journey of being a parent.
